The great gospel wagon spent but one night in town, and then proceeded towards New York State. At 10 early hour in the morning Mr. Dalling had dragged it slowly along well towards Westport. A meeting was held in the open on Friday evening which attracted a good sized and quiet audience. Mr. Truett, in a clerical garb, played upon the cornet, also a parlor organ, and he threw pictures upon a screen illustrating texts of scripture. His address was well received. He said he began the wagon business last March, and that it cost him $1,200. He had not only paid for the outfit but had collected $300 in clear money besides. The wagon has three rooms, a library, a kitchen and a sleeping room. Mrs. Truett sang several solos and has a good voice. A handsome collection was taken up, and some time in the early morning the wagon departed.

After considerable hunting on the part of the constables, one Tekla Szeenger of Southport was brought in. In a clerical garb, played upon the cornet, also a parlor organ, and he threw pictures upon a screen illustrating texts of scripture. His address was well received. He said he began the wagon business last March, and that it cost him $1,200. He had not only paid for the outfit but had collected $300 in clear money besides. The wagon has three rooms, a library, a kitchen and a sleeping room. Mrs. Truett sang several solos and has a good voice. A handsome collection was taken up, and some time in the early morning the wagon departed.

Livingston Smith of Main street, is spending a few days in Irvington-on-the-Hudson, where Mrs. Smith has been visiting for a fortnight. Saturday the Oneida football club played a game with the boys of the Staples High School in Westport. J. F. English of New York City taken a position in the Fairfield tower at the depot, and will have charge of one of the right eight hour tickets. The auction sale after the Harvest supper on Thursday evening is reported to have netted some $80. As the tickets to the supper were 35 cents and something like 50 people sat down to the tables, that alone must have brought in some $50. The money goes for missionary work.

Last night Rev. Dr. Frank S. Child delivered his second sermon on the Apostles Creed. In the morning Rev. Mr. Taylor of Westport occupied the pulpit.

C. C. Wells of rural delivery fame, and Mr. Mosier and Miss Mary Wells are each reported to be on the sick list.

After a three days' holiday the children of the town are again in school.

About 20 ladies were present on a recent afternoon at Grange hall to attend the Ladies' Union.

Mrs. William Northrop is visiting in Patterson, N. J.

Mrs. Mary L. Crossman is visiting in Lynbrook, L. I.

For the want of bidders, the sale of the Disbrow block has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. David Randolph of Bound Brook, N. J., are visiting in town.

Saturday Game Warden Wilbur F. Smith of Norwalk was in town and called attention to the fact that sportsmen who use high power guns should be very cautious. He said that a few days ago a farmer named Raymond, who was at work on the Belden Hills in Wilton, was shot by a stray bullet, which came from an unknown distance. The ball tore up the scalp on one side of the head and split open the man's ear. He was taken to a hospital. An inch more towards the man and he would have been killed. No report of a gun was heard.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1020 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. My back ached and my head ached. I was a nervous wreck. I tried many remedies but I could not get any relief. I then tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am now able to do my business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." STRATFORD

Dramatic performances appear to be taking the lead this fall and for the coming winter in the way of entertainments. On Nov. 4 the Eastern Star people will bring a comedy written by a local dramatist of considerable ability, called "How the Story Grew." It is said to be very amusing and well adapted to the stage. An orchestra will enliven the interludes, and the drama is to be followed by a real dance.

Later in the season the Rebekahs will give a play called "Returning of the Spinner." This has a local coloring and the characters are of particular interest to the community. The cast will include many characters, so there will be a fine opportunity for all who are hawking after stage applause to butt in and try their luck.

The proposed new fire alarm system for the town has been explained. It is very simple. The proposition is to have an electric wire run from the residence of Allen D. Judson, the chief of the bell in the Congregational church, and then have some arrangement by which the chief can arouse the town by striking the bell according to an understood code of signals. How for the bell can be heard, and who will wake up the chief when a fire breaks out, remains to be discovered. Harry Wilcoxson, Dr. Clapp and Chief Judson have been appointed a committee to install the apparatus.

At the memorial services to be held next Sunday for the deceased Red Men, there will be quartette singing by Fred Atwood, H. Arthur Powell, Arthur Meloy and Sidney Colborne. Victor King has returned from Hartford and is working for a house in Bridgeport.

Yesterday Dr. D. N. Griffin of Hartford preached at the Methodist church. Mrs. George E. Farrar with Mrs. Walter Hanford, who is superintendent of the cradle roll department of the Methodist church, entertained the members of the cradle roll and their mothers a few days ago at the parsonage.

Rev. V. F. Atkinson was the preacher yesterday at the Bethany Mission. Mrs. Arthur M. Parrott has lost a purse containing $7.

Father O'Connor with his sister and nieces has moved into the new rectory. He slept in the house for the first time on Thursday night. He has had a number of rooms repapered and decorated and they look as good as new. This is especially true of the two parlors, the dining room, and the suite of rooms composing his offices and library. Only one new suite of furniture was needed and that for the parlor. This is very elegant and the new carpet is of an artistic and beautiful design. The hallway and the stairs have new carpets, and Father O'Connor's suite of sleeping rooms, with bath and dressing room, are all that could be desired. The large room on the upper floor can be used for a chapel if wished.

The Bicontra boys and girls had a very enjoyable time at the Putney chapel supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jones and Mrs. Peter Troy of Poughkeepsie, have been recent guests of Mrs. W. H. Benjamin.

Mr. Fairchild is having his house in King street wired for electricity.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Filmer will occupy a house on East Broadway.

Six boys were born in town during September to three girls. During the spring months the girls were in a large majority, and it looked at one time as if the boy had been forgotten. They come a little late in the year but are just as welcome as May flowers.

As usual the Methodist church harvest supper was quite a success and the pretty little penny of $125 was the result. Evidently crops have been very good in town this year.

It is said the east bound platform at the depot, since it was replanked, is shorter than formerly. This must be owing to the falling off in travel.

Dramatic rehearsals are now the order of the day, and if mother is out late it is because she has a character in a play.

The Oronoque harvest whist will take place tomorrow evening.

For New Commandment

Prof. Carver of Harvard

Would Direct it Against Drink Instead of Blasphemy.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25.—Some changes in the Ten Commandments to make them apply to modern conditions are advocated by Thomas N. Carver, Professor of Economics at Harvard University.

Prof. Carver in particular wants an entirely new commandment dealing with the liquor habit. He would have it take the place of the commandment which reads: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

"The employment of the word God and like blasphemies as they are uttered today have lost their old-time significance," said Prof. Carver. "They are employed many times from pure force of habit, or an unthinking utterance of the first sentence that comes to one's lips, and are demonstrative of one who possesses a dwarfed vocabulary, and a lack of breeding or good taste."

"We see on the other side the intense craving for stimulants holding many people who have our lives in their keeping, and once in the possession of their desires, danger hangs over our being like the sword over Damocles. Drinking is a hindrance to any man who is placed in a high position of trust in these times of highly specialized life."

His substitute commandment would read: "Thou shalt not drink to drunkenness nor bewilder thyself with strong drink."

Fall colds are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. The genuine contains no harmful drugs. F. E. Brill, and Curtis Pharmacy, local agents. * 135

FILL TEETH AT TEN CENTS EACH

Greenwich Dentists Join United Workers of Wealthy People in Charity.

Greenwich, Oct. 25.—"Teeth filled for 10 cents a tooth" sounds like an advertisement of cheap dental work, but it is the price agreed upon by all Greenwich dentists for Greenwich's children who present themselves at the rooms of the United Workers on certain days to have the work done.

The United Workers, an organization of wealthy people, has interested the dentists in its work among the poor. The 10 cents a tooth is charged so that children and parents may not feel that they are the recipients of charity. Scores of children have been treated.

For Consumptive Poor

Bishop McFaul Buys Jersey Farm as a Sanitarium and All Creeds Are Welcome

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Bishop McFaul announced yesterday that he had purchased the Cox Farm of 131 acres at Marshall's Corner, and would open next Spring a sanitarium for the cure of the consumptive poor. The Bishop said that everybody and anybody will be welcome, so long as they are ill.

While the masses will be nuns, and the administration Catholic, creed will not be a bar, nor color either, to the entrance to the place. This is to be a place for the consumptive poor on practical lines.

Capt. Fox Retires

Captain Edward L. Fox, who after being a member of the New Haven Greys for 15 years, resigned the captainship and asked to be retired, has received his formal discharge from the adjutant general's office at Hartford, putting him on the retired list. The resignation takes effect on Friday, November 5. He will be succeeded by First Lieutenant Frederick Crabbs, by promotion, and Second Lieutenant Judge Tynner will advance to the first lieutenantship.
